Label Provenance and Feature Lineage Audit

External class labels and predictive features were constructed through separate branches; documented evidence-source overlap was expected and audited.

Audit boundary: label metadata is not part of the 74-feature input

Cloudflare event label / source classification is not included as a predictive feature.

Expected evidence-source overlap exists because both branches describe the same underlying routing event; the audit found no direct target leakage.